

27. Mai 2019, 17 Uhr c.t., Cas. 1.801

Helen Longino (Stanford University)

„Doing Epistemology as a Feminist“

Abstract:

Feminists have made a number of interventions in the sciences and in conceptions of knowledge animating those interventions. This talk explores some central points of contention among conceptions of knowledge available for feminist purposes and explores how developments in feminist thinking about gender can illuminate the epistemological issues.